

Alliance for Global Justice's Online Activist School
Course Proposal & Instructor Application

Feel free to respond on an additional sheet of paper or by email. No one response should exceed 200 words.

Name: _____ Email: _____
Phone: _____
Address: _____

Name of Proposed Course: _____

Course Description (Direct this toward activists that might be interested in taking your course. If you are selected, this description will be posted online.):

Skills/understanding that activists will have for organizing and opposing militarism after taking your course: _____

Each online course will run for a five week period. Instructors will have access to a Moodle platform for their course. AFGJ staff will assist them as necessary as they develop curriculum, upload materials, etc. We ask that for each week you supply students with a set of materials. This can include “webinars,” live chat sessions or lectures through our platform (Adobe or Megameeting), recorded powerpoints, readings, case studies, videos, radio clips, guest lectures, etc. The sky is the limit, so be creative! Then students should be asked to discuss the material through an online threaded discussion board. Please be sure to include at least one live component in your course. The course should not be entirely live, as we would like students with different schedules to be able to complete it on an asynchronous basis.

Please provide a brief outline of what themes you might discuss each week and what materials you might use. This is not a final syllabus and will only be used internally to give us some idea of what you are hoping to achieve.

Week 1: _____

Week 2: _____

Week 3: _____

Week 4: _____

Week 5: _____

Please provide us with a paragraph biography explaining your academic/activist/work experience as it relevant to the course.
